

The South African Airways Museum Society was founded in 1986 by individuals within South African Airways and interested outside parties with the aim of preserving the history of South African Airways as well as that of general civil aviation in South Africa.

Our museum runs purely on volunteer donations.

A donation will help us inspire future aviation professionals

We need your help to continue our journey at the SAA Museum Society in South Africa.

Direct your interest in aviation towards a good cause and help us preserve our heritage to inspire future generations.

Why donate to SAA Museum?

- We're a non-profit company - all funds collected go directly towards the upkeep of the museum
- Help us continue our work to preserve the history and evolution of aircraft in South Africa, for future generations
- Make a difference and increase your tax credits at the same time. Get a tax receipt for your donation
